Thank you for submitting your Literature review proposal.

Your subject matter is from the unit list – thank you.

Your formative is laid out very professionally. You have a well thought through plan, and there is a lot of potential content there to develop a Literature Review.

I just want to flag at this stage that the Literature Review is only 2,000 words long. I would look at the suggested content that you have currently and decide what is the absolute focus of what you would like to research/discuss from the information that you have gathered together for formative, to inform your summative.

If you try to engage with too much content you will only be able to touch the surface of several different aspects of discussion. However if you pick a core context that you feel really relates to your assignment title you will be able to engage in much deeper and more meaningful research and so do please think about this carefully when embarking on your summative.

As we have discussed in seminars, this module focuses only on secondary research, and therefore I'm mentioning in feedback to keep your research focus on existing literature. Please do not interview/survey people for this project.

With best wishes

Karen
